

2020 W.I.S.E. Committees

The purpose of the Networking Group, W.I.S.E. (Women Industrial Supply Executives), is to provide personal and professional development for executive-level women from ISA member firms. As a volunteer group, leadership responsibility begins with the seven nominated members of the Leadership Committee. Other committees are open to recommendations and self-nomination.

Leadership Committee – (by nomination only). Chair - Lori Mata, Saint-Gobain Abrasives

This committee is responsible for setting the group's mission, vision and goals as well as oversight of the group's activities. Each of the members is responsible for an individual committee. The work of the committees often interconnects particularly with the Annual W.I.S.E. Summit. Membership is by nomination only.

Membership - Chair – Jennifer Hawkins, Weiler Abrasive Group

This committee is responsible for recruitment and networking of new members and the related processes. It includes welcoming these new members and encouraging membership engagement.

Education and Development - Chair – Kristin Kraai-Keely, LineDrive

This committee is responsible for the educational strategy for member personal and professional development. This includes summit event planning focusing on the professional development content.

Communications - Chair – Miriam Metcalfe, Dormer Pramet

This committee is responsible for the oversight of W.I.S.E. communications and related processes. This includes content review and creation of the newsletter.

Engagement - Chair - Molly Langdon, Stellar Industrial Supply

This committee is responsible for creating the group's engagement strategy. This includes creating member touchpoints and sponsor engagement. It provides networking support.
