

LAUNCHPAD

Growth on the Horizon: Supply Chain Automation Leads the Way

4/21 1:30-1:45pm EDT

Now that the worst of the pandemic appears to be behind us, manufacturers and distributors alike look to the future with a sense of positivity. That doesn't mean, however, that we should abandon the invaluable lessons that the past year taught us. As we approach a new chapter, it will be crucial to embrace automation as a driver of growth to ensure that supply chain shortages don't occur, that our inventory works for us, and that our customers are left satisfied.

Join NetSuite's Gavin Davidson as he discusses:

- Better predicting supply and demand
- Automating supply chains
- Simplifying both warehouse and inventory management processes
- Ensuring cashflow through better invoicing

Speaker Bio:

Gavin Davidson

Product Management, Oracle NetSuite

With more than ten years at NetSuite, Gavin is Industry Product Manager for manufacturing and distribution. In this role, he helps drive new functionality in the NetSuite product roadmap and communicates this to the market, customer, prospects, partners and employees. He has also served as a Solution Consultant and Vertical Market Expert in his time at NetSuite. Gavin has served in consulting and sales roles for manufacturing technology including Visual Manufacturing and Epicor Vantage for companies ranging from Experlogix to Second Foundation to Six S Partners. Gavin has a Higher National Certificate in Production Engineering from Stow College in Glasgow, Scotland.

Learn more about ISA 21 HERE